

ABSTRACT

A furniture or structural fitting includes a first fitting part and a second fitting part connected to the former by a height adjustment apparatus. A threaded spindle is seated on two bearings, arranged at some distance from each other, on the first fitting part so as to be capable of rotation but incapable of shifting position axially.